School Bus Contract Awarded

—To Johnson

Contract for the transportation of pupils at the Indian Consolidated school on West Saanich Road has been awarded to John Johnson, proprietor of Brentwood Garage.

The garage operator has assumed the contract from Springwood Pharmaceuticals, from which firm he purchased the school bus.

The Indian school comes under the department of Indian affairs and is not connected with the Saanich School District.

Mr. Johnson brought his wife and family from England in 1947. For about five years he lived on the mainland. Two years ago the family moved to Brentwood, when Mr. Johnson acquired the Brentwood Garage. Since that time he has built up the business into a thriving enterprise.

His entry into transportation is his first departure from his routine.

The operator told The Review that he has been most impressed with the manner in which the staff of Springwood Pharmaceuticals have gone out of their way to assist him.

On one occasion recently, he recalled, the bus broke down. He contacted the Mount Newton Cross Road company asking for the loan of a car to transport his young passengers. He was inundated with cars, he said. The company officials lent him a fleet of cars while the vehicle was out of commission.

An active member of many community enterprises, Mr. Johnson is also a member of the Central Saanich special police force.

He Forgot His Dentures

Sailings are held up for various reasons in different parts of the world but the CY Peck can lay claim to the most unusual cause of delay.

The ferry operated between Swartz Bay, Fulford and Pender was delayed recently when a passenger for Victoria suddenly realized that he was without his dentures. Appreciating his problems, the crew held up the vessel until his teeth were restored.

TRAIL TO THE WEST

Seven Driving Lessons Were Enough For Her

There's a long, long trail a-riding. . .

An English trained nurse traveling from Montreal to Sidney found the trail long enough. Miss She-lagh O'Connor had never driven a car. She underwent driving instruction at a school in the eastern city and promptly drove across the continent.

Although seven lessons proved sufficient to teach her to drive, the course did not include any part of the procedure adopted in the event of a breakdown. Miss O'Connor was lucky. When she experienced a flat tire she promptly found a knight errant who changed the wheel for her.

The nurse is now an experienced driver.

She recalled Seattle as being the worst city of all. She saw the steep hills, intersected at traffic lights and parked on the side of the road. While her courage ebbed at the prospect of stopping and starting on so steep a bank, the parking time was exhausted. Necessity proved the driver and she came through without incident.

TO MONTREAL
Miss O'Connor is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gibbs, Madrona.

They Were Not There For Fun

Residents of Brentwood are still chuckling about a car which went out of control on Verdier Ave., recently.

The car, a station wagon, was descending the hill, when the brakes failed. The driver hurriedly attempted to turn into a driveway. He missed his target and the car tore through a wire fence, coming to rest on the lawn of a home.

The occupants of the car were shaken but unhurt. They remained within the vehicle for a time to recover from the shock.

Before the car could be moved a friend of the owner of the house appeared on the scene. He reprimanded the driver for taking his car into a private garden for recreational purposes.

The owners of the home were out and their friend was under the impression that the visitors were picnicking on the lawn.

BANK OFFICE AT GALIANO FOR SUMMER

New banking facilities are to be available for residents of Galiano Island. Commencing on Saturday, June 4, the Bank of Montreal at Ganges will open an office at Galiano once each month during the busy summer season. The office will be open from 9 a.m. until 11 a.m. on June 4, July 2 and August 6.

The temporary banking office will be located in Bambrick's Store.

The announcement was made this week by A. M. J. Field, manager of the branch at Ganges. He stated that this arrangement was made following a request from the Galiano Development Association.

ONE CAR COMES TO GRIEF HERE

One car came to grief last week when the sidewalks in Sidney streets were newly laid.

A small car was turning around on Third St. The driver chose to run his car into a convenient driveway. With a lurch the small vehicle passed over the sidewalk and hung.

The front wheels had dropped over the edge of the cement and were spinning freely, while the weight of the car was resting on the sidewalk.

Pleasing Presentation

Members of the Saanich Jersey Cattle Club met recently to celebrate the 25th anniversary of the active organization. The above picture was taken of the first and current presidents of the club. A. W. Aylard, of Brackenhurst Farm, Wains Road, was presented by President Grace Moses, Hazelhurst Farm, Deep Cove, with a model Jersey cow.

Party Inspects Power Plant at Jordan River

Twenty-five members of the Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce, commissioners of the village of Sidney and other residents of the district enjoyed a day's visit to the Jordan River hydro-electric plant on Monday as guests of the B.C. Electric Co. The visitors travelled in a chartered bus and narrow gauge railway train and gained a clear perspective of the power company's production operations in the Jordan River area.

Heading the B.C. Electric officials were A. W. J. Smith, sales manager, and Frank Stenton, Sidney representative. Others in the party included Gordon Roper, commercial sales; Rod Hale, operations department; and Morley Collins and H. A. Goward, public relations.

The Sidney party was headed by President G. B. Sterne of the Chamber of Commerce, and Chairman H. Bradley of the village commission. At the conclusion of the tour, both expressed the warm thanks of the guests for the many courtesies shown.

POINT NO POINT

Leaving from Hotel Sidney at 10 a.m., the party was whisked through to the company's Forebay Reservoir, lying at 1,150 feet elevation north of the community of Jordan River. Lunch was enjoyed en route at Point No Point. Leaving the bus, the visitors climbed aboard two cars of the railway and followed the huge flume for five miles back into the mountains to the massive concrete diversion dam which impounds the waters of Jordan River and other creeks at an elevation of 1,200 feet. The Sidney party decided against climbing the trail back to the Bear Creek reservoir dam which lies at an elevation of 1,303 feet.

Courteous employees of the company, headed by Mark Truman, stations manager, and Jack Elliott, plant superintendent, explained the entire project. The plant was built during the period from 1909 to 1911 under very trying physical conditions and, when completed, was heralded as a major engineering achievement throughout the continent. Its capacity was increased by adding equipment in 1914 and again in 1930.

OPTOMETRIST

Dr. E. H. Green, optometrist, will visit Ganges on Wednesday, June 8. The optometrist will use accommodation at the Ganges Inn for his office during his one-day stay at Salt Spring Island.

achievement throughout the continent. Its capacity was increased by adding equipment in 1914 and again in 1930.

POWER HOUSE

Returning by the railway, the party travelled by bus to the power house in the community of Jordan River. There the huge generators were being turned over by waters impounded high above. The plant supplied all the electricity consumed in southern Vancouver Island for many years but its capacity is limited and supplies now have to be augmented from other sources. The B.C. Electric is now planning the construction of a $5,000,000 marine cable to Vancouver Island when the company will again be able to supply all the demand in this territory.

Assembling at the "Big House", the visitors were given a clear picture of the entire operation and numerous questions were asked. The flume which runs for 51 miles through the mountains, contains 5,000,000 board feet of lumber and must be renewed every 20 years, they learned. Suitable literature concerning the plant and reservoirs was presented to each guest.

The party returned to Sidney at 7 p.m. after a most enjoyable and educational day.

TROPHY COMES BACK TO NORTH SAANICH HIGH

By winning three out of four football games played against Mount Newton on Friday afternoon, North Saanich high regained possession of the P. N. Wright trophy, emblematic of sports supremacy in School District No. 63 on the high school level. The trophy was held by Royal Oak high during the past year.

Mount Newton junior girls was the lone Mount Newton team to win on Friday they took the measure of the North Saanich high team by a score of 9 to 1.

In the other three games North Saanich high teams scored rather easy victories over the school that has to draw its seniors from the Grade X class as the two top divisions are not enrolled there.

Increased Service Kept Busy

—Twice Daily

Although the weatherman has not realized the passage of time, summertime motorists are swarming into Sidney in large numbers to avail themselves of the double service now maintained by the Washington State Ferries.

The Sidney-Anacortes ferry is now operating two trips daily, at 11 a.m. and 5.30 p.m. The line-up of cars awaiting the vessels has already been on a par with previous years.

The restriction of services from Victoria is expected to place a heavier burden on the ferry service operating out of Sidney.

They Drove Without Drivers' Licenses

Three drivers were in Sidney police court on Saturday for the same reason. All three had been driving without the necessary license.

A juvenile paid a fine of $25 with costs of $5.50 for this offence. Arthur C. Howe was fined $1 and costs for permitting a minor to drive without a license, and M. Harris, of Victoria, paid a $25 fine.

The first two appeared before Magistrate F. J. Baker and the latter before Alan Calvert, J.P.

Harris also pleaded guilty to a charge of exceeding the speed limit in a school zone and was fined $10 and costs.

Crosses Bridge

HON. P. A. GAGLIARDI

Official opening of the new Pender Islands' bridge, connecting North and South Pender Islands, was scheduled for Wednesday afternoon with Hon. P. A. Gagliardi, provincial minister of highways slated to cut the ribbon and declare the thoroughfare open for traffic.

Ferries Cy Peck and Lady Rose were to proceed to North Pender from Swartz Bay and Steveston, respectively, carrying large numbers of residents who planned to observe the historic ceremonies. About half a century ago the federal government excavated a canal between the two islands, opening up a wide-used seaway. This year the canal has been bridged, connecting the islands once again.

Residents of the Penders are in carnival mood today and plan to celebrate the official opening of the bridge.

Building Shows Increase

—At North Saanich

Building in North Saanich during the month of May showed a slight increase over the activities in this field during the same month last year.

Permits for three dwellings and 10 miscellaneous undertakings were issued during last month by W. R. Cannon, building inspector for the North Saanich Regulated Area. The three dwellings were valued at $17,750, while the miscellaneous permits totalled $6,900 making a total of $27,650.

In May, 1954, permits were issued for two dwellings at a value of $11,700 and eight miscellaneous structures valued at $11,200. This amounted to a total of $22,900.

Injuries To Logger Are Fatal

Injuries incurred while logging on Moresby Island proved fatal to a popular resident of Fulford, William D. Stewart, on Saturday. Rushed to Royal Jubilee hospital in Victoria, after suffering extensive injuries, the logger failed to survive.

As recently as May 23, when Fulford celebrated its gala day, Mr. Stewart was busy in the social life of the community.

A native of Victoria, he was 36 years of age.

Surviving are his wife, Hattie, and three children, Margaret, Patricia and William, all of Fulford; his mother, Mrs. A. E. Stewart of Dolarton, B.C.; two sisters, Mrs. Kathleen Brynlesen and Mrs. Agnes Cunningham, of Vancouver.

Last rites will be observed on Thursday, June 2, from Fulford Harbor United church, when Rev. William Allen and Rev. J. G. G. Bompas will officiate. Interment will follow in the church cemetery.

FINED FOR SPEEDING ON PATRICIA BAY HIGHWAY

Salvatore Dainaldi was fined $10 and costs for exceeding the speed limit on Patricia Bay Highway, in Sidney R.C.M.P. court, on Saturday. Two Sidney men were fined $25 for loitering.

Suggests Cash Prize

For Best Letter on Ferry Service

J. M. Campbell, Saturna Island farmer who is keenly interested in finding a solution to the transportation problems which have beset the Gulf Islands for a long time, has written to The Review suggesting that a competition be arranged with a suitable cash prize to be awarded to the writer of the best letter which sets out a suitable schedule of ferry services for the islands. The farmer supports his own suggestion by forwarding his cheque to start a fund rolling.

Mr. Campbell explains that on Wednesday last Gavin C. Mount outlined some features of a ferry service which would give complete service to the islands of Pender, Mayne, Saturna and Galiano. Mr. Mount felt that such a service should enable residents of these islands to get into a centre on Vancouver Island and back home in the same day and also allow visitors to travel to the islands, enjoy a visit and return the same day. Such a service should enable a lower freight rate than that presently in effect.

The Review will be more than pleased to accede to Mr. Campbell's wishes and provide sponsorship of the competition he suggests. He is anxious that the letters entered in the competition include at least the following information:

1. A schedule showing times and routes which accomplishes the results listed above, having some regard to costs; and
2. An outline of a freight trucking schedule which serves all the islands. This could be from either end or both and an overall system or separate systems for each island. It should also be supported by some evidence to show how frequency of service and cost may be influenced.

AT INFORMAL RECEPTION

Former Reeve Outlines History of Secession

The man who wrote "finis" to a fight which lasted for a half-century was the guest of honor at a reception at Brentwood on Thursday evening last week. Ratepayers and residents of Central Saanich feteed ex-Reeve Sydney Pickles at a gathering in the Women's Institute hall.

The history of the fight for secession was outlined briefly by C. T. D. Whitehouse, former secretary of the old Ward Six Ratepayers' Association. Mr. Whitehouse extolled the former reeve as the man responsible for the successful outcome of the fight.

The ex-reeve protested. He explained that the fight for secession commenced shortly after Saanich was incorporated in 1906. A steady pressure was maintained throughout the years. He recalled that in 1927 the late Councillor L. C. Hagan, of Saanich, supported by the late Capt. Nat Gray, of Saanichton, joined forces and with the assistance of a large group of residents, employed two lawyers to prepare the case for secession. The lawyers, noted Mr. Pickles, are today Judge O'Halloran and L. Patton, Victoria city solicitor.

ARTERIAL ROAD

The result of that move was the assumption of responsibility for arterial road maintenance by the provincial government. A second factor resulting was the approval of the Relief of Saanich Act, whereby any part of the municipality, after fulfilling prescribed conditions, could seek secession.

The ratepayers responsible for this achievement were content to sit back, confident that the problems which had faced them in the past were now at an end, recalled Mr. Pickles.

Time proved that those problems had not yet ended and that the northern, rural section of the municipality was still suffering under an inequitable tax burden. In 1943 the ex-reeve was asked to seek election as president of the Inactive ratepayers' association by Councillor Hagan. He did so and was elected. The association maintained (Continued on Page Three)

MURDER AND MONEY ARE FEATURED IN FINAL PRESENTATION HERE

There is something particularly alluring about murder. Perhaps it is the universal appeal of it, for most of us have met the one man we would like to practise on.

On Friday and Saturday evenings of last week Peninsula Players introduced the audience to murder. It was a pleasant little murder, with a background of hysteria and nagging women. It was also sandwiched between two plays completely unrelated to death.

The final presentation of the season included a drama and two comedies. The third play was more farce than comedy, though it was listed as the latter. And in between we saw Joan Henriksen put paid to an overbearing half-sister in the person of Molly Buckingham. Both were excellent. As a hysterical spinster the former excelled and undoubtedly represented the outstanding performance of the evening. We felt confident that her husband would be unlikely, after such a performance, to argue with her in future over mere money matters.

Don Smith and Eileen Cooke appeared on the scene when the murder was already accomplished to prove the lady a liar.

SIMPLE COMEDY

The opener was a simple comedy in which a refugee lady uses wiles other than womanly to trap her man. Nell North as a refugee was convincing and A. F. C. Watts maintained his role as her suitor without a pause. Arthur Byford, in the lesser part, was pleasantly unpleasant.

The final play showed how not to prepare for a village festival. It was a farce throughout as the lady of the house, Ailsa Rothery, suffered the problems and harassment of preparing for the parade. John Collings, in a minor role, gained applause each time he appeared to condemn, roundly, all women. Also in a minor role, Jean Christie as a masculine spinster fearful of appearing as a seductive Britannia, gained enthusiastic support from the audience.

The festival queen, Joyce Marshall, nonchalantly undressing in the morning room, was the pert lady whose curiosity consistently proved stronger than her mother's advice. Her assistant, Sylvia Rodd, had little curiosity and strong regard for advice. This was evidenced in the manner of changing clothes.

HIGH PACE

A bright dialogue and consistent movement kept the pace as each player fell into place. With a cast of 11, Festival Day was excellent entertainment. Supporting the play were Joe Lunn, James I. Elliott, Jennifer Williams, Eva Byford and John Gray.

The choice of plays was excellent and the presentation showed a polish which has been gained by experience. The prompter was in little demand throughout.

The first play, Sunshine on the Righteous, was directed by Muriel E. Smith. Blunder, the drama, was directed by Jane Leigh and Lesley Allen, a newcomer to Peninsula Players, directed Festival Day.

Stage manager was Ken Smith, with David Smart, Florence Chapuis and Mary Rodd, while E. Marshall and John Gray were responsible for lighting.

The players have maintained a very high standard of accomplishment throughout the season and the blatant lack of familiarity with the stage has all but disappeared. We can only trust it remains so in future, for this playgoer knows full well that one poor showing by the players will probably necessitate his departure across the Atlantic. F.G.R.

PARENTS ARE IMPORTANT BUT IMPATIENT, DECIDES P.T.A. PANEL

The pros and cons of the present day elementary school curriculum were discussed by a panel of five, at the monthly meeting of the Patricia Bay-McTavish P.T.A. held on Wednesday, May 25.

The panel consisted of F. J. Willway, principal of Royal Oak elementary school; J. W. Lott, of the Royal Oak high school staff; Mrs. E. Readings and H. E. Robertson representing the parents, with Mrs. J. J. Woods acting as chairman.

Many problems including silent versus oral reading, spelling, arithmetic, and the so-called "frill" subjects, art, music and physical education were discussed. A number of enlightening facts were given by Mr. Willway and Mr. Lott, regarding the formation of the curricula by the curriculum advisory board.

The panel concluded that the "frill" subjects were so closely correlated with the other subjects taught, that they could not be omitted. Oral reading is needed by the younger child but as they grow

EXHIBITION AT HOTEL DRAWS KEEN INTEREST IN SIDNEY

Reproductions of 30 paintings were on show in Sidney last week. The paintings were shown by Saanich Peninsula Art Centre in the banquet room of the Hotel Sidney.

Keen interest was shown by many residents who attended the exhibition almost from the hour of its opening on Thursday afternoon. The showing continued through Friday and Saturday. The accommodation was donated by Glen Searle, of the Hotel Sidney Dining Room.

The paintings stretched over the period from the 13th century to modern times. Probably an ambitious period for so limited a coverage. It drew criticism from some quarters. It was felt by some viewers that had the showing been confined to one period it might have

BROAD SELECTION

The selections have been made from some of the best known painters through the ages and from many who are less well known.

The scope of the exhibition stretched from the religious paintings of the early Italians to the incomprehensible of the moderns. It was selected with a view to offering the broadest possible concept of art through the ages within the limited means.

Spectators expressed their appreciation of the work of the art centre in arranging the showing. It was arranged by the centre in co-operation with Sidney Recreation Commission.

BRENTWOOD

The weather was a little disappointing for members of the W.A. to the Brentwood United church on Wednesday last when they planned for their spring tea and sale of home cooking and miscellaneous to be held in the garden. In spite of the weather a very enjoyable afternoon was spent by about 80 guests at the home of Mrs. Olorenshaw, Durrance Road. Spring blossoms decorated the rooms and tea was served from tables centred with blossoms. Rev. A. M. Angus, Rev. Wm. Buckingham and Mrs. Geo. Moody, president of the W.A., welcomed the guests. Mrs. A. Cuthbert looked after tea tickets. A home cooking stall convened by Mrs. Geo. Bickford and Mrs. S. Kelly did a thriving business as did a stall of needlework and plants in charge of Mrs. A. Burdon, assisted by Mrs. R. Haugen and Mrs. E. Holden. Tea arrangements were in the capable hands of Mrs. H. Simpson, Mrs. Olorenshaw and Mrs. M. O. Goodman. The affair was a financial success, the proceeds of about $100 will be added to the W.A. funds.

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Thomson, Mount Newton Cross Road, have received word that they are the grandparents of a baby girl born to their daughter (Kathleen), Mrs. Dan, Montgomery, on May 26, at the Tofino General hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery live near Ucluelet, where he is stationed at the airport.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Clemett, Beach Drive, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter at the Royal Jubilee hospital on May 24. Ruby Jean is a sister for Gordon and Dennis.

The engagement has been announced of Miss Joan Williams from Regina, now residing in Victoria, to Bill Wolf of Brentwood Bay. The wedding will take place on June 20, at the home of Mr. Anfield, Tudor Lodge, Brentwood Bay.

LOWEST TAXES

Today, said the former reeve, Central Saanich enjoys the lowest taxes of any municipality on southern Vancouver Island.

Reeve H. R. Brown introduced the subject of the presentation. He observed that Mr. Pickles had been elected as the first reeve of Central Saanich with a good majority. "We have a splendid municipality, good building and we are off to a wonderful start. It is up to us to carry on where he left off."

The reeve read a poem citing the effort of the man who had built a bridge for the benefit of those who were to come after him.

F. C. E. Ford, Mount Newton Cross Road, presented an illuminated address from the ratepayers and residents of the municipality. Mr. Ford explained that he had not always agreed with Mr. Pickles, but that he recognized the strength of character behind the decisions made by the first reeve.

MODEL

Mr. Whitehouse presented Mr. Pickles with a model of the municipal buildings at Saanichton. The model was constructed by Mrs. R. M. Lamont and Ed Logan. Within the model was a gold watch, purchased by public subscription.

The weather was a little disappointing for members of the W.A. to the Brentwood United church on Wednesday last when they planned for their spring tea and sale of home cooking and miscellaneous to be held in the garden. In spite of the weather a very enjoyable afternoon was spent by about 80 guests at the home of Mrs. Olorenshaw, Durrance Road. Spring blossoms decorated the rooms and tea was served from tables centred with blossoms. Rev. A. M. Angus, Rev. Wm. Buckingham and Mrs. Geo. Moody, president of the W.A., welcomed the guests. Mrs. A. Cuthbert looked after tea tickets. A home cooking stall convened by Mrs. Geo. Bickford and Mrs. S. Kelly did a thriving business as

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Clemett, Beach Drive, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter at the Royal Jubilee hospital on May 24. Ruby Jean is a sister for Gordon and Dennis.

The engagement has been announced of Miss Joan Williams from Regina, now residing in Victoria, to Bill Wolf of Brentwood Bay. The wedding will take place on June 20, at the home of Mr. Anfield, Tudor Lodge, Brentwood Bay.

THE GOVERNMENT MUST ACT NOW

CULMINATING tempestuous weeks and months of indecision and controversy over what type of transportation services would be ideal for the Canadian Gulf Islands, residents affected agreed at a largely-attended meeting at Mayne Island last week to appeal to the provincial government and place the case squarely in the hands of the highways department. The minister of highways, Hon. P. A. Gagliardi, will be urged to appoint a commission to study the islands' transportation requirements and set out a firm government policy which will ensure a practical service over a period of many years.

Speaking at Galiano Island the previous week, Evan Jones, deputy minister of highways, who was representing Premier W. A. C. Bennett and Mr. Gagliardi at the gathering and thus was speaking with the full authority of the government, made it clear that if the islanders could agree on a common aim in the field of transportation, the government would definitely come to their assistance. At the Mayne conference, representatives of all affected islands agreed on a firm policy. Now it remains for the government to fulfil its pledge without delay.

Years ago the Gulf Islands were a hive of activity. New residents were arriving with each boat and agricultural shipments to outside markets were extremely heavy. Then came the abrupt deterioration of ferry service. The tempo of the islands slowed alarmingly. Many businesses closed down and the stream of immigrants slowed to a trickle. Everyone agrees that with a practical and expanding transportation service assured for many years, business will again boom on the islands.

The Review is not suggesting for one moment that the islands haven't ferry transport today. Two reputable companies—one subsidized and the other unsubsidized—today service the area. But residents want assurance from the only competent authority, the provincial government, that service will be continued in the years which lie ahead. They've seen one service abandoned without much notice and they don't want to be caught in that way again.

This newspaper deplores the tendency of a few residents to blame heads of companies which today serve the islands for their troubles. Both are highly responsible gentlemen, one a resident of Salt Spring and the other has his roots deep in the soil of Galiano. Critics of these gentlemen should be reminded that if both died tomorrow, the ferry problems of the islands would not be solved. We are convinced that each is more than anxious to do his part in the full development of the marine district. No one could do more.

With the government fully appreciating the magnitude of the problem and with residents of the islands working shoulder to shoulder towards its solution, the answer is certain to be found shortly and the future of the islands thus assured.

IT'S TIME TO DO BATTLE

IN many sections of this district an army of tent caterpillars is creating havoc with foliage on numbers of fine trees. Some trees have already been killed and many more are threatened. It's high time that land owners alerted themselves to the serious situation and engaged the invaders in battle without delay.

Infestation is heavy in sections of Central Saanich and in the eastern portion of North Saanich. For some unknown reason, the westerly section of North Saanich and the Deep Cove area are comparatively free of the pests.

Owners of property have at least a moral obligation to burn or spray the caterpillars for the protection not only of their own trees but those of their neighbors as well. The danger lies not only in what the caterpillars will devour this year. A more serious threat lies in the future after this myriad of insects turns into butterflies which will lay eggs by the thousands of millions to hatch into hungry worms in the spring of 1956.

Responsibility for the spraying of heavily infested roadways in North Saanich is squarely on the shoulders of the provincial government. Residents are looking eagerly to the start of spraying by highway crews. For it is a waste of time for a responsible property owner to clear his own trees of the pests if they invade from nearby properties.

Many fine trees in this area will be killed unless the threatening epidemic is not brought under control soon.

Letters To The Editor

SECESSION AGAIN?

Editor, Review,
Sir:

I am rather amused over the controversy being waged in Central Saanich over Sluggert Road and the local improvement issue.

It is true that Reeve Brown used this as a plank in his election platform, yet it was an ambiguity. Whether he liked it or not he, after being elected, was under the Municipal Local Improvement Act, committed to it anyway; at least for such schemes as would apply thereto.

W. Mitchell, the other candidate, when queried (possibly because of more experience), answered that he would use it "where applicable". This was the only straightforward reply that could be made. However, it did not prove so ear-piercing as the credulous.

As for using a plebiscite or referendum to determine whether the remainder of Sluggert Road should be completed under a local improvement scheme would be sheer waste of time and money without first ascertaining if it came under that classification. We cannot force local improvement schemes on people illegally. They have recourse to a higher authority and if I know the temperament of some of those people in that area they would seek it before the ink was dry on the verdict. It is well for us on this side, or I should say, the east side, of Central Saanich, that these safeguards exist.

But why should I be amused over this little argument? Well, it is but a few short years since the battle of secession was waged in this district. "We have got to break away from those vultures in the inner wards," was the cry. "Otherwise we will be paying for their sewers, sidewalks, etc." They heeded not the fact that these projects would have to be done under local improvement. It would have to come out of general revenue if they defaulted, and so on. Somehow or other we got obsessed with the idea that the inner wards would cease paying taxes first and that they had the power to flout the law willy-nilly.

Well, we seceded, and now four short years after we are "as you were". Drentwood is popping up with local improvement ideas of their own as well as this one we would like to foist upon it. At present, its lighting, then will come sewage and sidewalks. First thing we know it will not be Ward Six versus the field, but Ward Six versus the field, and then against the field. Already the ugly word of secession is being voiced. Some Drentwood people are toying with the thought of incorporating a village, and why not? At a meet-

Reflections From the Past

10 YEARS AGO
Provincial works department is calling for tenders for a five-year contract to operate the Mill Bay ferry between Brentwood and the Malahat.

Sgt. Basil A. Robinson has returned to his home at Ganges after four years overseas with the 16th Canadian Scottish. Sgt. Robinson is spending 30 days' leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Robinson. He has been posted for instructional duties following a wound in the head gained during the Normandy campaign.

The Palano family arrived on Mayne Island on Thursday and ing recently I heard a gentleman facetiously suggest that he on the east secede from Brentwood. "There is many an earnest word spoken in jest."

Who knows? any one of us might get disgruntled over some little thing like a sick chicken, cow, or sheep, or something and, hey presto, away we go. No, it's not funny; it's tragic. The local improvement part of the Municipal Act is a safeguard. Let us get into its proper perspective and not try to abuse it for any momentary selfish whim.

Another thing that puzzles me, why should a reeve expect the other councillors to be mere puppets to his will and pleasure.

If they are worthy of that office then it's only proper to expect they have a will and mind of their own. Where everyone thinks alike, no one thinks very much.

I was glad to see the plaudits to our neighbors to the south by one of your correspondents. We may wish to be back with them someday.

V. E. VIRGIN,

SUPPORTS BROWN

Editor, Review,
Sir:

The policy of calling for all new road construction work to be paid for out of funds provided by a local improvement loan charged against the properties facing the road is a sensible principle. They get the maximum benefits.

With this policy the ratepayers in other parts of Central Saanich are not required to foot the bill, through increased taxes for these local improvements.

We should strongly back Reeve Brown in supporting this recognized municipal procedure.

E. E. SPEK,
R.R. 2, Royal Oak, B.C.,
May 30, 1955.

CONCERNED

Editor, Review,
Sir:

We feel considerable concern at the reported proposal of some of the Central Saanich councillors to proceed with the Sluggert Road extension in this Brentwood area, and to use funds from general revenue for the purpose.

Beside the point at the moment, perhaps, are the facts that the area in question is presently well-served by parallel roads Clark and Marchant, a few hundred feet north and south, respectively; that children would be no "safer" on a completed Sluggert Road than on any other road which is open to mechanized traffic; that there is but one residence facing on this 1,100-odd feet of proposed extension; that general revenue does not receive enough cents from each tax dollar to allow such generosity, and further that the $900 mentioned would build any kind of decent road is decidedly open to question.

Of chief importance is that should the council proceed, such a policy would surely establish a precedent fraught with most unpleasant possibilities from a present ratepayer's viewpoint? It would be a gift-edged invitation to any prospective buyer to purchase back-of-beyond property, with a consequent low price, then demand that he be given access to it, at very little expense to himself. His property would increase in value at the expense of the rest of us.

We commend Reeve Brown for endeavoring to adhere to his pre-election announced policy on local improvement, which was obviously approved by the majority of electors, and we endorse his recommendation to the council, that a plebiscite on a local improvement by-law be submitted to the ratepayers at the next municipal election.

H. M. WOODWARD,
R.R. 1, Brentwood Bay, B.C.,
May 31, 1955.

NOT THE FEW

Editor, Review,
Sir:

It would be interesting to the majority of the ratepayers of Central Saanich to know the reason why Councillors Andrew, Peard and Warren gave their support to a resolution which would cost the ratepayers, to begin with, not only $900, but would create a precedent leading to all kinds of trouble and expense in the future.

If Sluggert Road must be graded, gravelled and ditched what is their objection to the job being paid for by local improvement loan?

This resolution must be rescinded as otherwise the ratepayers will want to know whether these councillors are under the impression they were elected to guard the interests of the few in particular, and not those of the majority in general.

MORE THAN FAIR

Editor, Review,
Sir:

Please allow me, through your columns, to address this open letter to Mr. Pearson in answer to his in your last issue, and through him to all those who are of the same mind. Dear Mr. Pearson,

You are quite right. The meeting at Galiano was simply a propaganda one. It was called to announce the formation of the Gulf Islands Navigation Company, and was not advertised as a debate. The speakers chosen were invited to speak on transportation, past, present and future. It was hoped that the C.P.R. would have had a representative there to speak for the past.

Mr. New and Mr. Moutat were invited to speak for the present and future. Unfortunately Mr. Moutat was not sufficiently briefed on the purpose of the meeting, otherwise he would have confined himself to a simple statement of what his company is doing and intends to do to serve us, and not have been so outspoken in his attack on the company supplying the Vancouver connection, on whose behalf the meeting was held.

You said that "It would never do for the people of Galiano to hear the other side of the transportation question". Mr. Moutat was given the fullest hearing and surely if anyone is fit to do this, he is, and, this to my mind, at such a meeting, was fair play carried almost to absurdity.

In view of the above if you are still of the opinion that there was room for discussion, let me point out that before the meeting I asked the deputy minister of highways if he would like to say a few words at the meeting. He replied that if there was to be any controversy he would rather not, and he was assured by me that there would be none.

This, Mr. Pearson, is my last letter to the press on transportation. We have been told to get together and settle our differences. We shall never get there by shouting at each other through letters to the editor. We must sit down around a table at a bureau meeting, prepared to give and take. If you do not like the bureau, call it by some other name, but it will be composed of the same kind of people, that is to say, of people elected by each island to represent it.

To my mind there must be a Vancouver connection and there is room for a subsidized ferry, but the rates on the latter must be realistic and not temporary rates which can only hold till all competition is driven out. A subsidized ferry which forces us to go via Ganges or Swartz Bay, or both, every time we want to go to Vancouver is still, in my opinion, a form of creeping paralysis.

IVAN G. DENROCHE,
Galiano, B.C.,

FERRY SERVICE

Editor, Review,
Sir:

I was very interested to see the various comments with respect to the Gulf Islands in your issue of May 25 and, without wishing to stir up any argument, would nevertheless like to call your attention to a few points that occurred to me.

1. In fairly large type on the front page, you say, "Gulf Islands must not be left isolated". Do you not think that this tends to create the wrong impression? The Gulf Islands are not isolated now, even if that was the case a couple of years ago to some extent. They have been served by the "Lady Rose" four days a week all winter and will again be served seven days a week all summer, in addition to which, Salt Spring is served several times daily by the "Cy Peak" and the Pender Islands three times a week by that vessel. Also, our program for extension of our service is well known to your good self and in the district.

2. Another headline on the front page refers to lands shipped direct from Pender Island. This article refers to Mr. Lock coming to Pender from Luxton, near Victoria, and returning the same day with 15 lambs. According to the ferry schedule advertised on Page 6 of your paper, he must have left Swartz Bay at 8:30 a.m. and returned to that point about 9:30 p.m. In other words, he must have been on the road for 12 hours, plus his travelling time between Luxton and Swartz Bay in both directions. However, disregarding that part of the other 15 hours travelling time at $2.50 an hour for a man and a small truck, the trip must have cost him $32.50, plus his fare on the ferry. The cost per lamb would therefore be $3.50, plus ferry fare, which com-

Why That Name?

Gypsy was so named because it was believed that these nomadic people originated in Egypt.

To Hector, or treat with insolence is derived from the Greek, Hector, who was so treated by Achilles.

hospital. He is reported to be making good progress.

30 YEARS AGO

The new building for the Saanich Canning Co. is now under construction on the old site. Many small buildings have served the plant for a considerable time. The new building will be 120 feet long by 63 feet wide. Part of the structure will be two-storey. Project is estimated to cost in the region of $5,000.

pares with a net cost of $120 per lamb from South Pender to Canada Packers plant in Vancouver.

3. Mr. Cousineau, in his letter you published on Page 4, refers to our letter advising that we were dropping our Port Washington calls as "just another bluff". We do not think that this kind of a remark is particularly helpful having regard to good public relations; but apart from that, at that time, it seemed to us to be pointless for us to call at Port Washington when the government was providing a service to Sidney far below cost and at a price which neither ourselves nor any other operator could possibly meet.

We changed our decision only because of very strong representations made to us direct by mail from certain residents from Pender Island who explained that their business would be adversely affected if we dropped the call entirely. Consequently, our summer schedule provides for three calls a week at Port Washington which seems to us to be sufficient in the circumstances, although we had originally intended to make six calls a week at this port.

4. We do not believe that anybody takes exception to the principle of subsidized services where there is a real need, but we do not believe that it is in the public interest for subsidies to be on such a scale that a service can be supplied for less than a fair price.

INADEQUATE

Editor, Review,
Sir:

The police court records in Sidney show a charge against a man for contributing to juvenile delinquency through distribution of indecent literature.

It is my opinion that the $25 fine was insufficient punishment for this charge. The paddle, the lash, or solitary confinement seems more appropriate. However, perhaps Alfred Whitney Griswold had something when he said,

"Books won't stay banned. Jail won't work. Ideas won't go to jail. In the long run of history, the censor and the inquisitor have always lost. The only sure weapon against bad ideas is better ideas. The source of better ideas is wisdom. The sure path to wisdom is a liberal education."

R.R. 1, Sidney, B.C.,
May 27, 1955.

APPRECIATION

Editor, Review,
Sir:

I wish to thank the large number of Central Saanich residents who were kind enough to contribute to the total cost of the reception and the beautiful gifts which were given of the market. This fact is of vital importance to farmers of these islands.

"It is my earnest hope that a subsidized inter-island service will be inaugurated and that co-operation between this service and the trans-Gulf service will result; thus bringing greater prosperity to both services and to ourselves."

MOUTAT'S VIEW

Mr. Moutat says as follows:

"It is most regrettable and unfortunate for our islands and our people that there is still so much bickering, confusion and indecision in regard to a permanent transportation policy that will restore the stability of, and confidence in our communities.

"Opinion, as to what type of transportation we need is sharply divided into two schools of thought. On the one side considerable opinion is in favor of a direct connection with the mainland via Stevenson. On the other side opinion is just as definite that the solution lies in frequent car ferry service to and from Vancouver Island.

"The groups in the opposing schools of thought on this question are for the most part composed of well-meaning citizens of our communities. Unfortunately it does not seem likely that it is going to be easy to agree on a fixed policy and so, Mr. Chairman, I say that I most emphatically believe that the time has come for us to ask an authority such as the minister of highways to formulate a policy for Gulf Islands transportation on a modern and practical basis at freight rates and passenger fares that will ensure security and continuity for all concerned. It is when such a policy is declared by the government, I am sure that the government would then call for tenders for the performance of the service and of the performance of the service would be open to any transportation company that may be interested and, Mr. Chairman, my point here is that we should be, and I am sure we are very much more concerned to see that our various island communities get good transportation than we are about who supplies the service which in any event should, I hope, be under, by and with the authority of the minister of highways."

Mr. Moutat contended that private enterprise, without a subsidy, cannot provide the kind of ferry service which Galiano, Mayne, Saturna and the Penders require. Their need for a subsidized service, he felt, was much greater than that of Salt Spring Island.

C.P.R. SERVICE?
During an extensive question period, when Mr. Moutat was showered with queries from interested to my wife and myself last Thursday.

I also wish to thank the committee of Central Saanich ratepayers and their helpers who made the reception and entertainment possible.

The expressions of appreciation and kindness which my wife and I have received will always be remembered by us.

As it is impossible to reply individually to all who have taken a part in the reception and presentation and those who have signed their endorsement of the scroll which was presented to me with the engraved watch, and the leather letter case for my wife, I would be obliged if you could find space in your paper to publish this letter expressing our appreciation.

NOTICE TO RATEPAYERS

islanders, he expressed his firm conviction that the C.P.R. will inaugurate a ferry service between Swartz Bay and the mainland within three years.

The meeting was sharply divided on the subject of subsidized ferry services and those which operate without government aid. James Campbell of Saturna Island suggested that the meeting agree to ask for the appointment of a commission to bring in a report on the controversial subject. This suggestion was put in the form of a motion by W. W. Hunt-Sowrey of Mayne Island, and it was seconded by J. Money of Saturna. The motion passed unanimously and sharp differences were thus overcome.

No announcement has yet been made by the minister of highways as to when the commission will be appointed.

MRS. E. MAYHEW IS SPEAKER AT LUNCHEON HERE

The spring luncheon sponsored by St. Paul's W.A. was held in the St. Andrew's hall, recently. Rev. Wm. Buckingham welcomed the guests, and Mrs. H. T. J. Coleman presided.

Mrs. Coleman, president of the W.A., introduced the speaker, Mrs. Eliza Mayhew, of Victoria, who gave an interesting address on her impressions of India. Soloist was Mrs. Berry, of Ganges, who sang three numbers, "I Shot an Arrow," by Balfe, "The Ash Grove," and "Barbara Allan." English folk songs. Mrs. Berry was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. K. M. Tribute.

Mrs. Tribute gave two piano numbers, "A Scottish Highland Scene" by MacDowell, and "A Glee" by Primil.

Mrs. W. S. Dawson was in charge of the luncheon arrangements and Mrs. Martman and Mrs. Coleman in charge of tickets.

600 tons; Mayne 180 tons, Penders 350 tons, and Saturna 150 tons; plus 10 per cent of the above for off-island or export business.

"The assumption is made that such a service would replace the Lady Rose and would be the only service to the islands.

"I make this proposal in all seriousness because I believe too little thought has been given to the important details and too much emphasis on generalities, and in hopes that some practical plan may be evolved. I enclose a cheque towards a cash prize and I hope some others who don't know the answers will kick in to the kitty to make the pot worthwhile," concludes Mr. Campbell.

SCOUTS CAMP AT TOD INLET AREA

A "camporee" for the northern area of Greater Victoria District Boy Scouts Association was held on the B.C. Cement Company's Tod Inlet property on Saturday and Sunday, May 28 and 29.

Nearly 100 boys attended, including 21 patrols from the Scout groups in the Peninsula area. Also in attendance was one patrol from No. 2 troop, Seattle, who impressed their fellows with their efficiency.

The camp was under the leadership of District Scoutmasters George Bennett and Jim Redwood, assisted by Freeman King, Rovers and Service Scouts.

A rally is being planned for June 25 at the Saanich Fair grounds at Saanichton.

COMPETITION IS TOUGH!

Competition is tough in the oil business, too. While we believe Imperial is the best oil company in Canada, it's far from the only one. We're beset on all sides by healthy competitors.

From the Maritimes to British Columbia more than 240 companies are competing in the search for crude oil.

In 45 refineries from Halifax to Vancouver, 24 companies refine this crude oil into hundreds of useful oil products.

In all of Canada, scores of marketing companies compete for the motorist's and home owner's dollar.

In all its operations from coast to coast, Imperial Oil faces competition which is vigorous and resourceful, benefiting both the industry and the consumer.

Notes From Saanich Experimental Station

Weather conditions have been reasonably favorable for setting of fruit. Already the tiny pears, plums and cherries are rapidly increasing in size following pollination, either with their own pollen or pollen from some other nearby variety.

Many of our commonly grown varieties of pears and plums depend upon other varieties for pollen. This is true in pears of Anjou, Clapp's Favorite, Comice, Bosc, Louise bonne de Jersey, Winter Nelis and others.

In plums, Mallard, Washington, Peach, Black Diamond, Ponds, Gold and Golden Drop are all self-sterile. All sweet cherry varieties are self-sterile. Most apple varieties set fruit with their own pollen as do peaches.

If that fine tree of yours which has been full of flower for the past two or three weeks, fails to give a full crop, it is quite probable that the right pollen has not been available from nearby trees.

Much information is available on the pollen requirements of various fruit varieties and on varieties that are compatible.

HOLLY AND FROST

Browning of the margins of holly leaves this spring has caused considerable anxiety among holly growers in this area. The condition seems confined more especially to the variegated varieties.

Speculation has ranged from disease, overstimulation from nitrogenous fertilizers and the weather as being the likely cause of the trouble. As to an overdose of nitrogen being the cause, we can almost certainly eliminate that, because on the station there are young variegated plants showing the browning symptoms that have never had an extra lick of nitrogen for over a year.

To help clear up the matter, specimens were submitted in April to Plant Pathologist Roy Young of the Oregon State College, Corvallis. Mr. Young, who has been working with holly and its diseases for some time, has had considerable experience, therefore we think we placed ourselves in quite competent hands when we presented him with our problem.

Knowing that the other side of the border has had the Phytophthora disease to contend with and that it is practically unknown in B.C., it seemed like a good idea to get a diagnosis and prescription right from the cannon's mouth. Here is Mr. Young's reply: "The leaf samples of Silvery holly from one of your local plantations did not show injury typical of that caused by Phytophthora, and we did not find Phytophthora associated with the injury."

"I have seen this same marginal browning of variegated holly in a number of plantings in the valley. We have not in any cases found organisms associated with the browning, and we believe it to be due to the peculiar weather conditions during the past season.

"Most of our plantings here failed to mature properly in the fall, and much of the new growth and leaves were still rather tender. Our winter was mild, and during the spring we have had several sharp frosts. The marginal injury showed up in our plants following a series of rather sharp frosts."

It will be noted that the remarks about the sharp spring frosts and injury tie in closely with what happened in the Victoria area this spring. Apparently we can blame it on low temperatures. Relax, holly growers, relax! We have still to have reported an authentic case of Phytophthora in our midst.

SUN SHINES ON GANGES AIRMAN'S WEDDING IN ENGLISH CHURCH

The sun was shining brightly when Corporal Thomas Arthur Crawford, R.C.A.F., and Miss Enid Doreen Hadley were married at Newport parish church on April 16, reports the Independent Press and Chronicle, published at Saffron Walden, Essex, England.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Crawford, of Ganges, and the bride the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Hadley, Whyndhams Croft, Newport.

The service was conducted by the vicar and the hymns, "Praise, My Soul, the King of Heaven", and "Thine for Ever, God of Love" were sung with the church choir and Miss K. Leonard at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white frilled lace over net and taffeta, with a headdress of lace and rosebuds and a waist-length veil. She carried a bouquet of scarlet carnations and lily of the valley.

The bride was attended by two matrons of honor, Mrs. Shirley Hazel Corrie, bride's friend, wearing turquoise nylon over ballet taffeta and carrying pink carnations. There was also a bridesmaid, Miss Elizabeth Wingham, bride's cousin, wearing turquoise taffeta and carrying a posy of spring flowers.

Best man was Hector Corrie.

RECEPTION

After the service there was a reception at the bride's home, where a marquee had been erected in the garden.

The honeymoon was spent in Spain and the south of France. Cpl. and Mrs. Crawford are making their home in France, where the former is stationed with the air force.

The bridegroom's sister, Miss Rosemary Crawford, made the journey from Salt Spring Island to be present at the wedding.

The painting of the hull and upper works of the new 22,500-ton Canadian Pacific liner, Empress of Britain, will take 3,800 gallons of paint.

and exterior of St. Nicholas room and find out how soon the work could be done.

The president and Mrs. R. T. Meyer were appointed to attend the meeting at the rectory when preliminary arrangements will be made for the annual church fete at Harbour House on Wednesday, Aug. 3.

The Archdeacon spoke about the suggested trip on July 1 to visit the Anglican summer camp at Thetis.

Thanks were extended, on behalf of the Circle, to Mrs. V. C. Best, organist of St. George's church, who officiated at the organ in St. Nicholas Room at the recent dedication service and also to Miss Irene Cross, leader, and all members of St. George's choir who attended on that occasion, the music being greatly appreciated by the congregation. The secretary also wrote letters of thanks and appreciation to all those men at Vesuvius who by their voluntary work assisted Mr. Halliday in the building of the addition to St. Nicholas Room.

Following adjournment tea was served by the hostess and Miss Marguerite Holford.

VESUVIUS BAY ROOM OPENED BY CHURCH SERVICE

St. Nicholas Sunday school room, which has been closed for some extension work, was reopened with a special service which was attended by almost all the community of Vesuvius Bay. Archdeacon G. H. Holmes took the service, using for his text, "I was glad when they said unto me we will go into the House of the Lord".

The junior choir of St. George's church, Ganges, helped with the music and sang an anthem, Mrs. V. C. Best being at the organ.

The Archdeacon, in his address, paid tribute to those who had made possible the extension of the building, which now includes a vestry and a kitchen. He mentioned specially J. Halliday and his voluntary helpers who had given so much time to the work, also the Vesuvius Bay Circle of the W.A., who had borne the cost of the addition. He traced the history of the room, which, as a Sunday school room, was begun 10 years ago and has since been used for many purposes including W.A. meetings and fortnightly church services and is an asset to the growing community.

65 towns in the U.K. are covered by 184 firms who are sub-contractors of the Fairfield Shipbuilding & Engineering Co. building the new 22,500-ton Canadian Pacific liner, Empress of Britain.

Christening Service At Ganges Church

Garry Craig were the names given to the five-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Chubb of Ganges, at a christening ceremony held at 2 p.m. on Sunday at St. George's church with Archdeacon G. H. Holmes officiating.

The godparents were Thomas Mawinney, Victoria, and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bergstrom of Parksville.

A reception was held at the home of the baby's grandmother, Mrs. Dorothy Taylor. The room was arranged with narcissi and pink tulips, the decorated christening cake holding the place of honor.

In addition to local friends the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. Chubb, Sr., of Parksville; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bergstrom, Parksville; Mrs. Charles Hamilton, Santa Barbara, Calif.; and Mrs. R. Evans, Victoria.

BANKING OFFERS CAREER-SEEKERS A SOUND FUTURE

Today, ambitious young men are finding that banking, as a life work, offers greater scope than ever before.

In recent years, leading banks like the Bank of Montreal have almost revolutionized the working conditions of their staff members. An increased use of mechanical aids has banished much of the dull, routine work.

Opportunity for promotion comes to promising young men far more often than it did to their forefathers. Finally, banking salaries now compare favorably with those in most other occupations. An even more favorable comparison can be made for the bank's pension plan.

That banking can be a satisfying vocation is emphasized by Jock Johnston, manager of the Sidney B of M. "Good banker", Mr. Johnston points out, "get plenty of opportunity to be of real service to the community in which they live".

If you are interested in banking as a career, drop in for a chat with Mr. Johnston tomorrow. He will be glad to outline the B of M picture for you and answer any specific question you may have.
